BUILDING DEPARTMENT

The City of Racine Building Department will assist in determining the suitability of your chosen location.

LOCATION

Where will your food establishment be located?

All locations must meet neighborhood, district and zoning requirements, which are approved by the City of Racine Common Council.

- You will need to complete and submit the application for an Occupancy Certificate which will allow you occupancy of your chosen location.
- You will need to schedule an appointment with the City's Building, Fire, Plumbing and Electrical Inspectors to conduct inspections and ensure compliance with applicable City/State Commercial Building Codes. An Occupancy Certificate will be issued once the building is in compliance.

The City's Building Department can assist with determining signage to identify your establishment and how that signage is to be displayed.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

The City of Racine Health Department will review your business plan and discuss location and equipment options based on your proposed menu and financial considerations.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

You will need to complete and submit the application for a Food Establishment License, which will determine the type of license that will be issued.

Copies of your food establishment's facility specifications, a sample menu and comprehensive equipment list must be generated and supplied for review.

Once the application for license is submitted and the appropriate fees are provided, a food service inspector will schedule a pre-inspection of your location. A two-week advance notice is required.

- Each establishment must have at least one certified food manager. Classes are provided locally.

This is not a comprehensive list of possible activities and associated licenses. For complete details, please contact the City of Racine Building Department with the information below.
